LIVE WELL AT HOME

A photograph of an elderly couple walking away from the camera on a dirt path that stretches into a dense, sun-dappled forest. The man is on the left, wearing a light-colored short-sleeved shirt and shorts, and is using a walking stick. The woman is on the right, wearing a grey sweater and light-colored pants. The path is flanked by tall grass and a fence on the left, and more trees on the right. The scene is bright and peaceful, with sunlight filtering through the leaves.

“ On behalf of my mum, myself and my brother, I would like to thank you so much for the care and kindness you showed during our mum's short illness. My mum loved you all and enjoyed the giggles she had with you. You all showed such compassion and warmth which made her life so much easier. The respect and dignity you gave to her was incredible.

Please pass on our thanks to all concerned, who did so much to make mum's last days happy and bearable. Well done all of you. Much thanks and appreciation. ”

“ When my elderly mother was admitted to a geriatric ward in our local NHS Trust to recover from a severe fall we were concerned at the level of care she was receiving. The ward was under staffed and the nurses and carers were unable to provide the level of care and support we felt that mother needed. This resulted in myself and my sisters staying with her in hospital. However this became impractical for us due to our work and family life.

That's when I found Nursing Direct and used them to supply a carer full time for a couple of weeks to look after and support mum whilst she was in hospital. Not only was the carer well qualified and experienced, she was company for my mum and ultimately played a pivotal role in her recovery. I can't thank them enough for the help they gave us. ”

“ My mother has been suffering with dementia for a number of years now and being her primary care giver I was reluctant to leave her for longer than a few days.

However after using Nursing Direct carers and nurses I felt completely confident and at ease in leaving for a week's holiday. I had the full knowledge that my mother was being cared for by qualified sensitive staff, who were kind, considerate, respectful and professional. I cannot recommend Nursing Direct enough, especially for respite. I could relax for that whole time knowing my mother was well looked after and had a rare chance to look after myself. ”
